WHAT'S NEW AT THE EGGENBERG?

Neapolitan pizza at home as if fresh from the pizza oven, lunch menus in "Die Kantine", pop art on every pizza box, living like in "The Eggenberg", and so on, and so on! Rather than standing still, we always come up with something new for you. This is the only way to create true enjoyment à la Eggenberg. It's about more than just good food and drink - we live and love everything we do 100%!

LUI ON IT AMORE INSIDE!

What do you get when you mix pop-up artist Wenz, Eggenberg chef Lui, a pizza box and a whole lot of Tutto Gas Amore? An awesome pizza box, we think.

Without Lui, Das Eggenberg - and certainly not our pizza - would never be what it is today. His grumpy, loving nature makes him - even outside of his cooking skills and creative spirit - a priceless Eggenberg institution. Now, thanks to Wenz's support, his face adorns our brand new pizza boxes. Lui on it, Amore inside.

Truly amazing!

DAS EGGENBERG @ HOME

Fresh neapolitan pizza just like fresh from the pizza oven – now also on your couch!

We are declaring war on the lukewarm, soggy delivery pizza! For months, we have been working on a way to offer our pizza at home in the quality you are used to. Now we dare to say: our "pizza to go" tastes just as good as the one in our restaurant!

PIZZA @ HOME

A big reason why we haven't made our pizza available for delivery until now is that quality and taste usually suffer quite a bit. Dough and cheese become tough and the whole thing is only lukewarm once it arrives at your doorstep. Far from a perfect, fluffy neapolitan crust und freshly melted cheese.

How we manage to do it now? It's simple. The pizzas are pre-baked in our Eggenberg pizza oven and are then sealed airtight. They are delivered cooled and once they arrive at your home, only need 5 minutes in the oven to be perfect.

You can order these chilled pizzas directly in our restaurant (brand new pizza box included, see page 7) or through Velofood to your home. They last for at least 7 days in the refrigerator. Even longer if you freeze them! There's nothing in the way of stocking up on some Eggenberg Pizza in your freezer. :)

HOW IT'S DONE

FRESH
PIZZA @HOME!Fully preheat the oven to 250°C.NO
PIZZA OVEN?
NO
PROBLEM!Remove the pizza from the packaging,
place on the sheet, without baking paper, on the middle shelf. Easy.Bake the pizza at 250° fan/upper heat for 4-5 minutes. The perfect time varies depending on the oven. When the edges are golden brown and the cheese is perfectly melted, it's time to take it out!Slice it and enjoy! Caution - do not burn your mouth :)

UDON?

THAT'S ONE FAT NODDLE!

Udon are thick wheat noodles that have their origins in Japanese cuisine. With lots of vegetables and a savory sweet and sour sauce, they are not only served in the south-east, but also in Eggenberg.

Small Japanese lesson on the go:
うどんが食べたい
Udon ga tabetai.

= I'd like some Udon.

GOOD TO KNOW

Healthy food? Yes, with please! Treat yourself and your body and help yourself stay fit with a fresh salad and lots of vegetables. BUT: don't forget to enjoy yourself in between! A pizza or a burger can be just as good for your body and mind as the "healthier" alternatives. Remember, you're not just alive to be on a diet! So order some fries, treat yourself to that extra dip every now and then and, more importantly, don't forget dessert ;)

GOOD NEWS - ALWAYS

The Eggenberger Speisekartenzeitung is an independent, cheese-liberal medium in print form that reports every three months on the current range of food and drink at the Graz restaurant "Das Eggenberg".

It is free of fast-food influences and bad taste and serves solely to promote pizza and burgers. The newspaper is aimed at readers who place high demands on thorough preparation, as well as attaching great importance to expert and well-founded service at the table, in the areas of burgers, fries and co.

The Eggenberger Speisekartenzeitung is committed to the principles of free choice of food based on the social beer state and the multi-cocktail system.

Cheers!
